Protecting your WECU Visa Debit Card

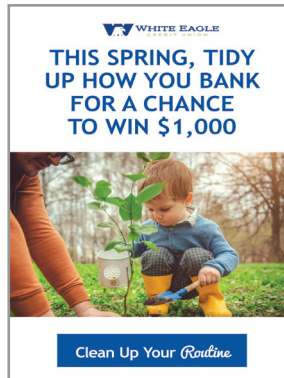

Fraudsters are out in force. One way is by posing as financial institution call center agents. They are also known to send text messages that look like they are coming from your financial institution. These text messages may contain a warning of suspicious transaction activities.

WECU fraud company is EnFact. If you receive a warning or call beware of the following. Please also remember if you are unsure – call us! And never ever, click on links or give out your information.

- A text alert from EnFact warning of suspicious activity on a cardholder's card will NEVER include a link to be clicked. Cardholders should never click on a link in a text message that is supposedly from EnFact. A valid notification from EnFact will provide information about the suspect transaction and ask the cardholder to reply to the text message with answers such as 'yes', 'no', 'help', or 'stop,' and will never include a link.
- A text alert from EnFact will always be from a 5-digit number and NOT a 10-digit number resembling a phone number.

We have set up a new page on our website for Fraud Education at <https://whiteaglecu.com/protect/consumer-fraud-education/>

Spring is the perfect time to clean up your finances and give them a fresh start. And as part of our Spring Sweepstakes, you're entered for a chance to win $1,000 for every qualifying transaction you make.

Qualifying Transactions

- WEPay Manage and pay your bills online or from your WEOnline Services and mobile app
- PopMoney A quick and easy solution for sending, receiving and requesting money from other people, all from the convenience of your online banking account. <https://www.pages01.net/fiservbps/2021SpringSweeps>
