Letter from the President

"White Eagle Credit Union is important to many people, young and old alike. Every time the credit union has faced a crisis someone has taken the reins and moved it forward. It is a remarkable local enterprise that has spread its wings and taken hope to new heights of reality. It is an absolutely incredible success story." – Iris Henman Lawrence, Saving Dreams in a Box

In 1935, a few White Eagle refinery workers would meet after work under a tree in the Henman front lawn on 12th street in Augusta. It was there that the idea to form what began as Augusta White Eagle Employees Credit Union was born. A Marsh-Wheeling cigar box served as the first cash box. That cigar box still sits on my desk today as a reminder to stay true to our roots. Today, those roots have spread to include 16,000 members and reaching multiple counties and communities.

We have lived quite a story, and we have a long story still to write. But we do want to pause, just for a minute, and celebrate 90 years. And we want to celebrate with you. After all, this is your credit union, your story, your hopes and it is you we believe in. We invite you to come celebrate with us at Garvin Park in Augusta on June 7th (more details included below).

As I sit and look at this cigar box, I think about how often we are encouraged to think outside the box. For White Eagle Credit Union, I believe it is important that we think inside the box.

Eric Brown
President/CEO
